When any function is selected the program will request which table the user wants to use.

The "key value" consists of the 2 position table number and the code you are assigning. Refer to table numbers in this section. Even though you have already indicated which table you want to use, the "key" must include the table number as its first two positions. (Exception is Terms Table 03 - do not use 03 in Table-Key.)

The table literal is a 30 character field which holds up to 30 positions of data. Type the meaning of your code in these positions.

The row of NUMBERS that appears on the screen is the same length as the maximum size of the entry.

This program allows you to add, delete, change and inquire into the table data set.

AMS2000 PROGRAM MANUALS

A8110 * TABLE MAINTENANCE

ADD: If Terms Table 03 is selected, all fields are requested.

Otherwise enter the key value and literal. If entry already exists, the program will indicate this.

Example: Add Contractor 02 to table 12
Sally's Sewing Company
Key = 1202
Literal = Sally's Sewing Company

CHANGE: The program will first display the existing record. If none exists, this will be indicated. If Terms Table 03, the program will ask if you want to change each existing field. Otherwise it lets you enter the new literal. The new record is displayed.

DELETE: CAUTION**

CALL YOUR SERVICE REPRESENTATIVE BEFORE YOU DELETE

Table 70 is automatically deleted when style/clr is deleted in A1100

Displays the existing record and verifies that this is the record you want to delete.

INQUIRE: If Table 03 is selected, the existing records are displayed under headings for each field. Otherwise only the literals are displayed.

Screen will display do you want to print table data Y/N? or '/' to stop inquiry. If Y, will ask: enter two position table number you wish to see.

Enter table number, press return. Screen will display "do you want to continue printing Y/N? or '/' to stop inquiry. If you answer 'N' or '/' screen will display the following message: File M8110 ready to print (will be in spooler ready as M8110).

All transactions will be written into the file AUD8110 and A8111 report will be created in the daily showing user, date, time and all adds, deletes and changes.
